Insurance License for Variable and Life held through Nestlerode & Loy, Inc. Commissions are paid by issuing companies, and NLI has policies and procedures in place to monitor client risk and suitability.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

- Insurance License for Variable and Life held through Nestlerode & Loy, Inc.

The receipt of additional compensation creates a conflict of interest because it provides an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation tied to those products. Investment advisor representatives of the firm endeavor at all times to act in your best interest and to only recommend investments that are suitable for you. We have policies and procedures in place to monitor all Client transactions.

- Trustee Income

From time to time, personal friends and relatives request individuals at Nestlerode to handle their trust matters as a trustee. The trust is typically held at RBC. If the trust is managed, Judy, as trustee, will waive either the management fee or the trustee fee based on the client's preference. By only taking one fee, this avoids additional fees and reflects proper fiduciary behavior.

- Broker Dealer

Judy Loy and Nestlerode & Loy, Inc. are registered with FINRA as broker dealers. In this capacity commissions and 12b-1 payments can be earned by the company and/or individual which can create a conflict of interest. Mutual funds that pay a commission or 12b-1 payment are avoided in managed accounts when possible. If a fund pays a commission or 12b-1 payment in a managed account it is refunded to the client through RBC, allowing us to avoid the conflict.

- Distribution, Rollover Services and Transfers

The Financial Institution and its Advisers may recommend that you take a distribution from your tax-preferred account or transfer from another institution and move the amount over to an Account at the Financial Institution, so that the Adviser may provide advisory services to your Investment Account. The Adviser and Financial Institution will, in turn, receive compensation for providing such services. Therefore, the Adviser and Financial Institution have an incentive to recommend that you take such distribution, transfer or rollover the proceeds to their Advisory Services.

- Interest in Financial Institution

Judy Loy owns an equity interest in the Financial Institution. Therefore, she has an incentive to recommend that you purchase certain securities, products and services that generate more revenue for the Financial Institution. The increase in the Financial Institution's revenue will increase the value of the Advisers' interests in the Financial Institution.

Item 6 Supervision

Judy Loy is a General Securities Principal, which means she is registered with FINRA, as having the ability to supervise sales and operations of a broker dealer. At one point, she was the Chief Compliance Officer of the firm. Since May of 2009, Jody Sharer took over duties as the Chief Compliance Officer (CCO) and oversees the advisors and their activities.

Judy Loy is a producing manager creating more than 20% of the firm's revenue.

Item 7 Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

Due to Judy's over twenty-five years of experience and her ChFC® designation, she is accredited as a SEC Registered Adviser.
